

Log

The Global Connection: Target 10.7 specifically targets how immigrants and refugees come to Nova Scotia and how they adapt to our community and how our community adapts to them as well. Target 10.7 is about how it helps people migrate safely, orderly, responsibly from different countries to another in an organized way using migration policies.

Human Impact: Angelique Cishayo is a woman from Burundi who immigrated to Halifax NS and documented her experience on what it was like to be an immigrant. As she looked back on her earlier years, she had to overcome so many obstacles and challenges like leaving her family behind and then adjusting to a new life in Canada. Angelique talks about how starting a new life in a foreign country is like being born again. She had to learn within her 10 years of living here, how to speak, how to cook and how to dress for winter in halifax, all without her family to guide her. Angelique eventually found stability and success in Nova Scotia and adapted to her new life!

pier21.ca/blog/angelique-cishahayo/my-last-ten-years-as-an-immigrant-to-canada-and-working-at-an-immigration#:~:text=I%20still%20hold%20this%20pain,my%20greatest%20achievement%20to%20date

Future report: The positive outcome of refugee integration for the future (maybe 20 years or more) is that refugees and immigrants can help the economy grow bigger by filling in places for jobs, starting businesses and becoming successful and wealthy people just by immigrating to NS. Over time all the new comers will build lives and can have big opportunities to make them and their families have great chances to being wealthy. As more immigrants come they would help make schools, neighbourhoods, communities and local places more active and strong especially as people get older they would keep the population bigger and growing. Refugees bring so much to Halifax like their new cultures, ideas, traditions, foods and much more. This makes halifax a great diverse and interesting place! So overall in the future refugee integration can have such a positive impact on Halifax by g  ing the economy, making more people wealthy and successful and bringing diversity.