

Brainstorming and Selecting an Essay Topic

Before you start writing an essay it is important to consider and think about the topic you are going to write about. When selecting a topic for an essay it is important that the topic meets the requirements of the essay and that the topic you select is something you are interested in. Follow the “I Can” statements below to complete this activity.

- I can select three different essay topics I would consider picking for a topic
- I can provide 3 different facts about each of the topics
- I can use 2 to 3 different sources for each topic
- I can pick one of the three topics to write my essay on

LINK TO ASSIGNMENT

Quick and Easy Research Tips

1. Ask the teacher or instructor for any further explanation of the assignment
2. Use reliable sources (ask a teacher for clarification if needed)
 - a. This means no Wikipedia (except for the exceptions....)
 - b. Look for sites that end with .edu, .org, .gov
 - c. .com can work but you have to make sure you trust the source
 - d. Use multiple sources (books, magazines, and articles)
3. Use Google or any other reliable search engines and be specific in your search (don't open every link, skim the writing underneath)
4. Bookmark anything interesting before you move on
5. Make a list of key words and use quotations when searching
6. Turn off social media (check in spurts)
7. Do not be a thief! (use your own words)
8. Organize what you find

Potential Essay Topic

Picking A Topic:

Try and pick a topic you are interested in learning more about.

Find out some facts or big ideas related to the topic (could make up the main ideas of your essay)

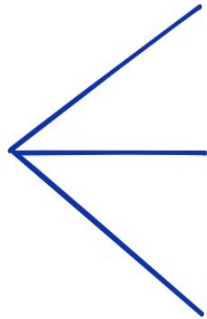

Use primary and secondary sources to find information.

Use 3 different sources

Sources:

Provide any sources that you used here.

3 Points

Potential Essay Topic

Picking A Topic:

Try and pick a topic you are interested in learning more about.

Find out some facts or big ideas related to the topic (could make up the main ideas of your essay)

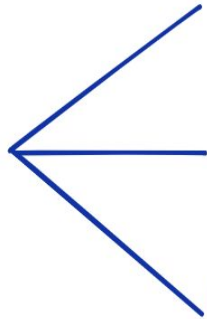

Use primary and secondary sources to find information.

Use 3 different sources

Sources:

Provide any sources that you used here.

3 Points

Potential Essay Topic

Picking A Topic:

Try and pick a topic you are interested in learning more about.

Find out some facts or big ideas related to the topic (could make up the main ideas of your essay)

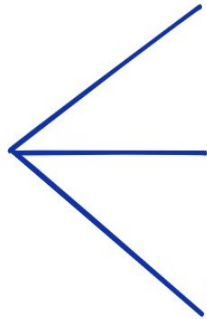

Use primary and secondary sources to find information.

Use 3 different sources

Sources:

Provide any sources that you used here.

3 Points

Essay Topic:

Which of the three topics are you going select to write your essay on and why?