

Step 1: Brainstorming

Brainstorm and come up with a topic that you are interested in learning more about. Spend some time looking online to see what kind of information and sources are going to be available. Follow the “I can” statements below to complete this step:

I can select a topic for my essay.

I can select three main ideas/topics that I want to research about.

SEE A COMPLETED EXAMPLE

Video Explaining How to Complete

Topic
or Thesis Statement

What is the topic of your essay?

or

What is the message you want the reader to take away?

Topic and Thesis Statment:

Main Idea
1

Main Idea
2

Main Idea
3

Main Ideas

The three main ideas that are going to make up your 3 body paragraphs.

These ideas and topics will be what you research about.

Try to find primary and secondary source evidence to support your topic or thesis statement.

Step 2: Research

For all three of your main ideas/topics, you will need to find three supporting facts. These are the facts you will find from completing your research. Make sure to use primary and secondary sources. Follow the “I can” statements below to complete this section:

I can find three facts for my three main ideas/topics.

Main Idea

3 Supporting
Facts

Supporting Facts:

These facts work to support
your main idea.

Use primary and secondary sources to find information.

Try to have one of the following
to help strengthen your argument:
quotes, statistics, or eyewitness
accounts

Main Idea

3 Supporting
Facts

Supporting Facts:

These facts work to support
your main idea.

Use primary and secondary
sources to find information.

Try to have one of the following
to help strengthen your argument:
quotes, statistics, or eyewitness
accounts

Main Idea

3 Supporting
Facts

Supporting Facts:

These facts work to support
your main idea.

Use primary and secondary
sources to find information.

Try to have one of the following
to help strengthen your argument:
quotes, statistics, or eyewitness
accounts

Step 3: Writing Your Draft

Now that you have completed your research it is time to start writing your draft. Follow the tips and instructions on each slide. Use the “I can” statements below to complete this section:

I can write an introduction paragraph

I can write 3 body paragraphs

I can write a conclusion

I can use my research

Introduction Paragraph

Opening Sentence:

- Get the readers attention
- Introduce the topic of your essay

Body Sentences:

- Introduce the main ideas that will make up your body paragraphs

Thesis Statement:

- What is the main point of your essay and the message you want your reader to take away

Body Paragraph 1

Body Paragraph Structure

Opening Sentence

- Introduce the main idea/topic of the paragraph

Body Sentences

- Dive deeper into the main idea with more detail
- Provide evidence to support your ideas or argument
- Use primary and secondary sources to support your ideas (quotes, numbers, facts)

Conclusion Sentence

- Summarize the main point you presented to the reader in your opening sentence
- Last chance to leave an impression on the reader about this topic

Body Paragraph Structure

Body Paragraph 2

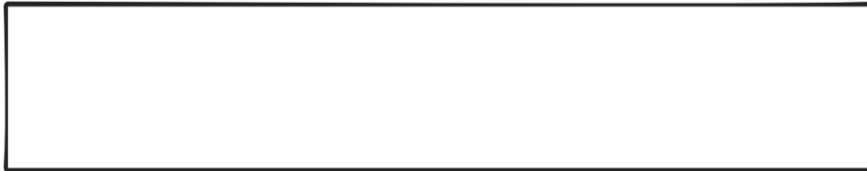

Opening Sentence

- Introduce the main idea/topic of the paragraph

Conclusion Sentence

- Summarize the main point you presented to the reader in your opening sentence
- Last chance to leave an impression on the reader about this topic

Body Sentences

- Dive deeper into the main idea with more detail
- Provide evidence to support your ideas or argument
- Use primary and secondary sources to support your ideas (quotes, numbers, facts)

Body Paragraph 3

Body Paragraph Structure

Opening Sentence

- Introduce the main idea/topic of the paragraph

Body Sentences

- Dive deeper into the main idea with more detail
- Provide evidence to support your ideas or argument
- Use primary and secondary sources to support your ideas (quotes, numbers, facts)

Conclusion Sentence

- Summarize the main point you presented to the reader in your opening sentence
- Last chance to leave an impression on the reader about this topic

Opening Sentence

- Restates your thesis or main idea from the introduction

Conclusion Paragraph

Body Sentences

- Summarize the main ideas you presented in your body paragraphs

Conclusion Sentence

- Last chance to leave an impression on the reader
- Offer potential solution/prediction/recommendation

