

Values Badge or Coat of Arms Assignment

Values Badge or Coat of Arms Assignment

This assignment you will design a badge or coat of arms that shows what values matter to you and our school community. This guide will give you all the information you need to complete your assignment and share your ideas in a creative way.

I Can Statements	• I can list important personal values and school community values. • I can design symbols that represent the values I believe are important. • I can explain how my design connects to these values. • I can use my creative skills to share ideas visually.
Required Information	Your project must include the following details: • Value List: ◦ Include at least three personal values (for example, honesty, kindness, respect). ◦ Include at least three community values (for example, inclusivity, cooperation, fairness). • Symbolism: ◦ Design symbols or images that represent each value. ◦ Consider what shapes, colors, or images best show the meaning behind each value. • Explanations: ◦ Write a brief explanation for each symbol or section of your design, telling us what value it represents and why it is important to you and our school. • Creativity: ◦ Use your personal style to make your badge or coat of arms unique and reflective of who you are. Tip: Reflect on the glossary of personal and community values we have learned. This will help you decide which values to represent and give you ideas for symbols and design elements.
Presentation	For this assignment, you will decide how to present your project. Here are some potential formats: • Google Docs (with images and text) • Google Slides (presenting your design on different slides) • WeVideo (a video explanation of your design) • CoSpaces, Minecraft, or another digital design tool • A physical drawing or collage that you photograph and shar

Values Reading

Understanding Personal and Community Values

Values are the ideas and beliefs that help us decide what is important and how we act every day. They guide our choices and behaviors.

What Are Personal Values?

Personal values are the things that you believe in and care about the most. They are unique to you and help you decide how to behave. For example:

- honesty: Always telling the truth.
- kindness: Being friendly and helping others.
- respect: Treating people nicely and fairly.

When you know your personal values, you can make good choices, even when things are challenging.

What Are Community Values?

Community values are the shared beliefs and ideas that everyone in our school cares about. These values help our school become a friendly and safe place. For example, our school might value:

- inclusivity: Making sure everyone feels welcome.
- safety: Keeping everyone secure and protected.
- collaboration: Working together as a team.

These common values help guide how we treat one another and make our school a happy place to learn.

How Do Personal and Community Values Work Together?

When your personal values match the values that our school shares, you help make our community stronger. Here's how they connect:

- If you value honesty and our school values being truthful, you build trust with your friends and teachers.
- If you show kindness every day, you help make the school a more caring place for everyone.
- By practicing respect, you make sure that everyone feels valued and included.

When you use your personal values, you also support and improve the community values. In this way, your choices can make our school a better and safer place for all.

Remember :

- Your personal values help you make good decisions.
- Community values help everyone work and learn together happily.
- By sharing and practicing these values, you make our school a place where everyone can thrive.

Think about your favorite values every day. Ask yourself, “Am I being honest? Am I showing kindness? Am I being respectful?” When you answer “yes,” you are helping to build a better community for all of us.
