

Asking Good Questions

Learning Goal:
How to ask good questions

Asking Good Questions

What is involved with creating a good question?

Keys To Asking A Good Question

3

- 1) A good question is an invitation to think (not recall, summarize, or detail).
- 2) A good question comes from genuine curiosity and confusion about the world.
- 3) A good question makes you think about something in a way you never considered before.
- 4) A good question invites both deep thinking and deep feelings.
- 5) A good question leads to more good questions.
- 6) A good question asks you to think critically, creatively, ethically, productively, and reflectively about essential ideas in a discipline.

Questions?

4

Let's take a look at some different types of questions:

- 1) What are examples of teenage rebellion?
- 2) Should teenagers rebel?
- 3) What television shows feature rebellious teenagers?
- 4) How many people in prisons are teenagers?
- 5) How is the teenage brain different?
- 6) Do we need specific laws for teenagers?

QUESTIONS?

5

Let's take a look at some different types of questions:

1) What are examples of teenage rebellion?

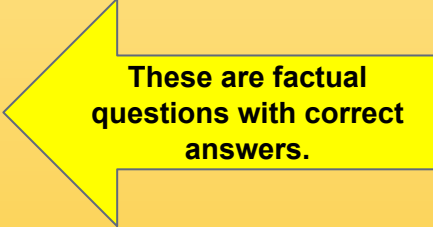

2) Should teenagers rebel?

3) What television shows feature rebellious teenagers?

4) How many people in prisons are teenagers?

5) How is the teenage brain different?

6) Do we need specific laws for teenagers?

These are factual questions with correct answers.

Questions?

Let's take a look at some different types of questions:

- 1) What are examples of teenage rebellion?
- 2) Should teenagers rebel?
- 3) What television shows feature rebellious teenagers?
- 4) How many people in prisons are teenagers?
- 5) How is the teenage brain different?
- 6) Do we need specific laws for teenagers?

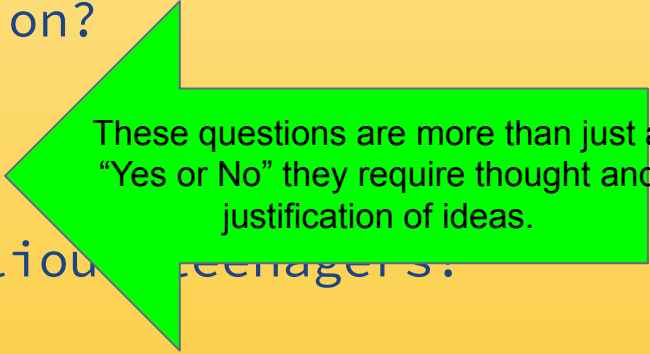

This is a scientific question,
that has yet to be answered.

Questions?

Let's take a look at some different types of questions:

- 1) What are examples of teenage rebellion?
- 2) Should teenagers rebel?
- 3) What television shows feature rebellious teenagers?
- 4) How many people in prisons are teenagers?
- 5) How is the teenage brain different?
- 6) Do we need specific laws for teenagers?

These questions are more than just a "Yes or No" they require thought and justification of ideas.

Avoid Leading Questions

8

What are leading questions?

A question that leads or suggests a specific answer.

Leading Question	Neutral Question
Why was Germany to blame for WW2?	Where does the responsibility lie for events of WWII?
Should violent teens face harsher punishments than adults?	Is justice the same for teen and adults?
Why would Parliament benefit from more women MP's?	Should gender equity be a consideration of parliamentary representation?

What do you see?
Come up with a question that you have from this photo?

9

Questioning ICA

Now it is time for you to demonstrate your understanding of how to ask a good question. Click on the link below to complete the Questioning ICA.

Link Questioning ICA